HEAVY VEHICLE ENFORCEMENT

Enforcement of heavy vehicles is becoming more intelligence led and targeted, supported by ongoing changes to legislation and improvements in detection technology. Speeding, fatigue and drugs remain a significant focus of enforcement efforts and new laws introducing chain of responsibility means that accountability is no longer limited solely to the drivers. South Australian Police constantly aim to develop best practice in heavy vehicle enforcement working in close collaboration with DTEI and other stakeholders.

Ross Rhodes will be talking on advancements in heavy vehicle enforcement practices and the implications of some aspects of heavy vehicle reform.

AITPM look forward to seeing you at the forum
