Nunawading Station Redevelopment (Springvale Road Grade Separation)

The Springvale Road level crossing is one of the busiest in Melbourne. More than 50,000 vehicles, 218 trains and around 5,000 pedestrians share this space every day at this location. This project is the first in the Victorian Transport Plan to be upgraded under the Road Rail Separation Program. The presentation will cover the project objectives, some of the challenges faced to date and what the project team is planning to achieve.

Epping – South Morang Rail Extension

The South Morang Rail Extension is much more than a 3.5-kilometre extension to the existing rail network. Apart from including the duplication of the track from Keon Park to Epping, its scope is significant and its interfaces are numerous. Construction will start in 2010, enabling a better connection for the people of the Whittlesea growth corridor to a high quality Public Transport solution supported by the community. This presentation will cover some of the challenges involved in planning for the delivery of this project.
