2008 AITPM NSW Technical Seminar

Traffic planning and management are integrated activities involving traffic engineering, land-use planning, social science, economics and environmental issues associated with the safe and efficient movement of people and goods.

The Australian Institute of Traffic Planning and Management is an association of people practising in these fields, and the 2008 NSW Technical Seminar will provide an excellent opportunity for AITPM members, traffic engineers, transport and land use planners and elected representatives to:

- Increase their knowledge;
- Exchange ideas and research in this field; &
- Develop professional networks.

This is the fourth instalment of the Back to Basics Technical Seminars that are historically held in November each year at the Parramatta Leagues Club. These seminar provide an excellent opportunity to our members to enhance their skills in traffic engineering and transport planning and to keep up to date with the latest technologies and guidelines etc. We have organised speakers who will introduce us to "tools of the trade", "Local Government Issues" and "Design issues" which no practitioner should miss. We encourage you to participate in this year's technical seminar.

The National AITPM Committee is also working towards assisting the delivery of educational programmes through our network of members around Australia. Look out for a number of initiatives offering opportunities for targeted training in NSW over the next couple of years.
